PEACEMAKING

OVERVIEW

We're in a transition period, moving from one consciousness to another. When outer planets change signs, they usher us into a new paradigm. This year, Pluto enters Aquarius and starts a new 20-year cycle. Neptune and Uranus move through the last degrees of their respective signs before starting new cycles in 2025. We will experience the tension -- the growing pains -- as we move from the planets in earth and water signs to air and fire ones. It's essential to use our collective imagination to create the world we live in. We're not passive observers caught in the winds of fate; we're creators whose minds and hearts compel us to change what isn't working. It's a year of envisioning and dreaming—a year of imagining what's possible and letting those ideas be the seeds we plant.

POSSIBILITIES

The numerology for 2024 adds up to 8. (2+2+4 = 8) Eight is the number of completions. It's the harvest after the summer Sun's rays have shone down on the growing crops. It's the period of the nine-year cycle when we reap what we've sown. It's the number associated with culmination and manifestation. Think about the energy of 2017, another eight year, for reference. Whatever you started that year will come full circle in 2024.

In addition to the numerology, Neptune and Uranus are in the last degrees of their respective signs. We feel the cycles ending as we prepare for the new ones beginning next year.

Neptune, in particular, is one to watch. Neptune stations retrograde at 29° Pisces 55' on July 2, signaling a time when our imaginations are most open and inspired. What can we envision for the future of our world? Imagine the possibilities...

In this same vein, this is the year augmented and virtual reality could become present in our everyday lives. Artificial intelligence is here in ways we haven't seen before, and it will be used in all areas of life, from cooking to driving to military operations.

MANIFESTATION

Pluto is making its way through the last degrees of Capricorn, and it will enter Aquarius this year, ushering in a new 20-year cycle. It enters Aquarius on January 20 but will retrograde back into Capricorn from September 1 to November 19. It's a time to understand we have the power to change our lives and affect change in the world. We are capable of creating new ways of being, and the start of this cycle offers us the chance to set a new paradigm into motion.

Capricorn is an industrious, goal-oriented sign. It's the sign I associate with capitalism and corporations. The Sun conjoins Pluto at the last degrees of Capricorn on January 20 before both enter Aquarius.

As Pluto enters Aquarius, it will bring more of an emphasis on what it means to be free. Can we feel liberated if we know others are being oppressed? This year shows us how to experience our individual power in a world with hierarchal power structures. We'll find new ways to connect with others, build community, and likely have new virtual spaces for gathering.

Saturn in Pisces adds to the flavor of this transit. Saturn, the planet of responsibility, moves through the sign of mysticism all year, bringing us into spiritual union with others and our working with the unseen, magical realm. Expect psychedelic therapy to be a growing trend as people seek to have experiences of oneness like we do in deep meditation or ritual practices.

In 2023, we re-evaluated how we think about labor, workers' rights, ethics, and compensation. We will build on those themes this year.

With Neptune in its last degrees of Pisces, we'll experience a spiritual upgrade, which could be uncomfortable while we're in it. However, we'll emerge more available for love, compassion, and connection.

DESIRED OUTCOMES

The most exciting transit happens on April 20 as Jupiter meets Uranus in Taurus. This transit occurs once every 13-14 years, and we experience breakthroughs. Innovative ideas are born, though they take a few years to form in visible ways. We experience outcomes as the cycle ends (before April 20). Reflect on the events happening in your life in 2010. What is concluding right now?

Jupiter's influence expands and magnifies. It's associated with luck and opportunity but can also relate to an inflated sense of what's possible. Uranus is the planet of progress, change, and inspired visions. It's also the planet of rebellion -- pushing beyond the limits. It's a visionary influence but can feel disruptive if we resist change.

When these two planets come together, we have the right mix of excitement and inspiration. Anything feels possible!

The key to making the most of this transit is to be intentional with your thoughts, impeccable with your word, and know what your shadow side needs.

Preparing for this transit, I'm finding ways to stretch my imagination by writing fiction, creative meditation, and diving into virtual reality. Because grounding is extra important at this time, I've discovered new ways of working with natural dyes in my painting. My hands might be blue with indigo all year! What stretches your mind and embodies your spirit? Do more of that this year.

The year's first quarter could feel like a whirlwind as we move toward this new cycle. Life will show you the past commitments that don't need to be carried into your future. Accept the magic of evolution.

WONDER

Saturn and Neptune moving through Pisces open our eyes to wonder. They open our hearts to magic, synchronicity, and amazement. Despite the difficulties inherent in any transition period, we feel guided and led. We feel the spiritual and can better attune to the voices of our ancestors.

Saturn and Neptune in Pisces offer us tremendous movements in the arts. At the same time, Pluto's entry into Aquarius brings technology to the forefront of our imagination.

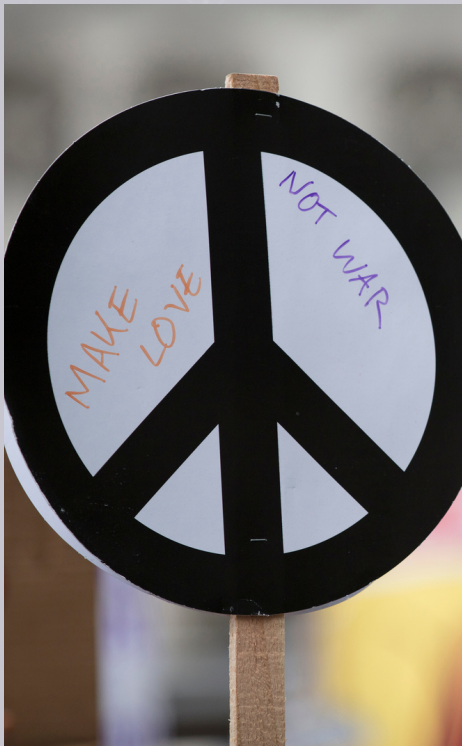

We will find ways to make technology more accessible, allowing artists, leaders in all sectors, and entrepreneurs to implement innovative ideas. We'll be marrying technology with the arts, and innovations in environmental sustainability will be a prominent feature of Pluto's time in Aquarius.

Saturn's influence is somber, and we feel it in whatever sector it's transiting. There can be hardships in those areas. Pisces rules the film and music industries, drugs and alcohol, the arts, rehab facilities, hospitals, medicine, and healing.

Saturn will conjoin Neptune in February 2026 - one of the more significant transits of the decade. As the two finish out their synodic cycle this year, we could see a rise in virtual reality, psychedelics, and anything that allows us to gain altitude for our terrestrial experiences. We could also see more news about UFOs.

Pluto in Aquarius stretches our minds beyond belief. It pushes us into the quantum field as a playground for our imagination. Wonder is a word you'll hear often in 2024.

PEACE MAKING

The North Node entered Aries on July 12, 2023, and we've seen the devastation of war and the rallying cries for peace. The eclipses on March 25, April 8, September 17, and October 2 highlight the Aries/Libra axis line. Aries is the warrior sign. Its influence asks us to protect what we hold dear. The North Node moves through Aries, and the South Node moves through Libra from July 12, 2023, to January 2025.

This axis line emphasizes independence/collaboration, war/peace, and self-direction/partnership. We could experience loneliness that compels us into relationships. These conflicts remind us of how good it feels to be at peace or relationship challenges that help break unhealthy patterns like codependence.

We're learning about peace, which means expanding our awareness to accommodate contrast without the emotional charge of suffering. It's acceptance with an impetus to neutralize polarity.

Tragically, we're also learning about war. It's an assault on our humanity to witness the violence. Many of us feel powerless in the face of war, so we gather together in peace vigils or join demonstrations. As a collective, we must break the cycle of evolution through contrast. We can learn peace without knowing the pain of war.

What are the warring factions inside yourself? Prioritize your inner peace by expressing your anger, establishing boundaries, and gathering in communities that support your deep need for connection.

NOTABLE TRANSITS

RETROGRADES

We start the year with Mercury stationing direct, a cycle that sends us back to collect influential memories and heal anything unresolved in our hearts and minds. Mercury was retrograde from December 12, 2023 – January 1, 2024. This retrograde cycle focused on our financial well-being and stability as Mercury in Capricorn retrograded into Sagittarius.

Mercury retrograde periods for 2024:

April 1 (Aries) - April 25 (Aries)

August 4 (Virgo) - August 28 (Leo)

November 25 (Sagittarius) - December 15 (Sagittarius)

At the beginning of the year, organize, declutter, and create space for new beginnings. Mercury is in its post-shadow phase until January 20, giving us a slow start before the momentum catches up.

Mars stations retrograde in Leo on December 6 and will turn direct in Cancer on February 23. Things might feel dramatic as Mars gives us the illusion of moving backward. We might not be as clear about our life's directions, or we may not have healthy ways of managing stress at the end of the year. Mars in Cancer can indicate a buildup of resentment, which is important to address and diffuse.

Mars will be moving back and forth in opposition to Pluto, animating our desire for planetary healing. This opposition is no small transit, as Pluto will be at the critical 0° point of Aquarius. It shows us what lies in the shadows of the Aquarian aspects of our culture, including technology, satellites, aviation, space exploration, and communities.

Neptune stations retrograde on July 2 at 29° Pisces 55' 55". In the last degree of the Zodiac, its influence allows us to prioritize the spiritual, imaginal, and conceptual aspects of our lives. Pisces, being the last sign, introduces endings. As Neptune appears at a standstill, it shows us what we will eliminate from our lives and what aspects of our culture we've outgrown. (Goodbye, skinny jeans...)

YEAR OF THE WOOD DRAGON

In Chinese astrology, the year of the dragon begins on February 10. Being a dragon myself, I look forward to this influence this year! The dragon represents leadership, courage, and ingenuity. Those born under the sign of the dragon embody traits like charisma, passion, ambition, generosity, and idealism. Dragons also embody magic.

This year, we can expect growth, new beginnings, and passion. However, we must make sure not to burn out! During the year of the dragon, we are more willing to work for the outcomes we desire. Opportunities abound for fresh starts.

If you're considering starting a business or launching a project, you could have more momentum this year. Anything we start in a Dragon year holds the energy of success.

SATURN IN PISCES

Saturn is often considered the taskmaster of the zodiac, and its influence helps us structure our lives. Saturn bestows a sense of responsibility, law, and order. It's associated with ambitions, hard work, and status in life.

Saturn in Pisces is a spiritual transit that encourages us to better appreciate our non-physical reality. Saturn's energy brings an opportunity to find deeper meaning and purpose through our connection with something bigger than ourselves--prompting us to learn more about our place in the cosmos.

The last time Saturn was in Pisces (May 1993 - April 1996), we saw:

- The Great Flood of 1993
- Healthcare reform (HIPAA is one example)
- OJ Simpson was tried for murder and acquitted
- Woodstock anniversary concert
- DreamWorks Animation founded
- IMDB incorporated
- Eurostar rail started
- First GMO food approved
- Nelson Mandela elected president of South Africa
- Earthquake in Japan kills thousands, Northridge earthquake in California
- Oklahoma City Bombing

Pisces is a hazy sign, and we see examples of that in the OJ Simpson and JonBenét Ramsey trials of the last Saturn in Pisces transit.

Saturn's wisdom helps us accept life's challenges as part of a broader journey toward enlightenment. With Saturn in Pisces, we can make a conscious effort to enjoy the beauty of each moment while also taking time out for reflection and spiritual growth. The overall experience of Saturn here is one of profound transformation, where we can gain confidence in our own inner strength and insight. Saturn's presence in Pisces encourages us to move beyond the mundane and tap into our most spiritual nature.

Saturn in Pisces can be a sign of spiritual awakening and exploration. With Saturn currently in the sign of Pisces, many people feel called to answer its call for spiritual growth. It's a time of otherworldly connections, dreamy visions, and psychedelic research. The rewards of this journey are immense, so don't be afraid to explore the unknown and go on an adventure toward self-discovery!

SATURN IN PISCES

Saturn in Pisces offers wisdom to help us accept life's challenges as part of a broader journey toward enlightenment. With Saturn in Pisces, we can consciously take time for reflection and spiritual growth. The overall experience of Saturn here is one of profound transformation, where we can gain confidence in our inner strength and insight. Confusion in the outside world leads us to turn inward and fine-tune our intuition. Saturn's presence in Pisces encourages us to move beyond the mundane and tap into our most spiritual nature.

Many people could feel called to answer a call for spiritual growth through disciplined practices, but we must watch that we don't lean into fundamentalism or rigid thinking. It's a time of otherworldly connections and dreamy visions, and we could see more psychedelic research.

As we uncover new insights about ourselves during this transit, the universe offers powerful opportunities for self-reflection and transformation - a chance to shift how we see and interact with the world around us.

Saturn's energies in Pisces also allow us to explore new creative avenues, whether through painting, drawing, writing, or music. We may feel inspired to express our spiritual side through art - an opportunity for others to understand where we're coming from on a deeper level.

We could see more developments in healthcare and healthcare law. Drugs and regulations of the pharmaceutical industry are likely to occur.

Pisces is also water, and with Saturn being the planet of law and order, we could see water wars, legislation over water ownership, and water events happening at this time. In the last transit, floods and droughts both occurred.

Pisces is the last sign of the Zodiac, and its influence aims to heal. As a culture, we will benefit from this influence on addressing mental health.

If you were born from 1993-1996 or 1964-1967, you're heading toward your Saturn return! This is an incredibly grounded time in your life, and you can take the reins and move toward your destiny!

PLUTO IN AQUARIUS

Pluto dipped into Aquarius from March 23 - June 11, 2023. It moves back into Capricorn until January 20, 2024. Then, it retrogrades back into Capricorn from September 1 - November 19, 2024. When it enters Aquarius on November 19, that's where it will stay until March 2043

Pluto in Aquarius will invigorate community-minded individuals. This transit encourages us to tap into our inner power, actively participate in our communities, and embrace democratic ideals. It inspires us to be agents of change, shifting conversations on how to do the best for the common good. With this energy, we dare to explore new ideas and stand up for our beliefs. We can boldly pursue collective progress with revolutionary zeal and optimism toward a brighter future. The possibilities are endless!

Pluto in Aquarius is an empowering time for us as individuals to unite as a community and create a brighter future for everyone. Let's use this energy to take the initiative and make real-life changes. By tapping into our collective power, we can open up new pathways for creating positive transformation – whether through civic engagement, grassroots activism, or simply by sharing different perspectives – all of which can help build community strength.

Ultimately, Pluto in Aquarius encourages us to unite under the banner of democracy, not just as individuals but as citizens doing their part to create a better place for everyone. The power of community is real.

Pluto was last in Aquarius from 1777 - 1798, marked by the French and American Revolutions. But that's not all. There were also the Liège and Belgian (or Brabant) Revolutions during that period and uprisings and revolutions in Haiti and Ireland. It was also when Uranus was discovered, the planet known as the modern ruler of Aquarius. Brilliant scientific and space exploration innovations happened during that time.

PLUTO IN AQUARIUS

Likewise, Pluto's journey through Aquarius from 1532 - 1553 brought rebellions, revolutions, and scientific discoveries. For example, Copernicus presented his theory on a heliocentric universe, which is thought to have kicked off the Scientific Revolution. The printing press allowed ordinary people access to literature and scripture and, thus, the power of knowledge. The Reformation and Counter-Reformation were in full force, which leveled out the papacy's power.

During these periods, we see a common theme: An attempt by individuals to reclaim their power from hierarchal systems.

We also look out to space and realize our connection to the cosmos.

Aquarius is a tech sign. It's interested in how we connect along the various invisible lines and airwaves of communication. Will we make contact with beings from other planets and galaxies? It's more likely than not under this transit.

We could also see an attempt to colonize the Moon or other planets over the next 20 years. We will push the boundaries of what we know is possible right now. This transit reflects a seismic shift in consciousness.

JUPITER IN TAURUS

Jupiter's transit through Taurus from May 16, 2023 - May 25, 2024, helps us ground and create a path toward long-term plans for success. It encourages us to think about how we want to achieve our goals over time rather than rushing or getting overwhelmed by short-term solutions.

Jupiter is the planet of expansion and tends to intensify - for better or worse- the areas of life represented by the sign it's in. We can't help but pay attention; Jupiter commands it! Sometimes, this means growth in these sectors; at other times, we are more aware of what needs improvement. Either way, Jupiter shines a huge (and I mean huge) spotlight on those areas of life.

In Taurus, that means:

- Finances
- Design
- Textiles
- Fashion
- Earth and Environment
- Gardens
- Fine Art
- Gourmet Foods
- Candy
- Luxury Items
- Banks and Bankers
- Leather Goods

Manifestation is a slow and steady art with Jupiter in this fixed earth sign; we can trust that our efforts are building something strong and lasting.

Taurus is a sign that allows us to take our time and enjoy the growth process rather than just focusing on the end result. It will keep us grounded, relaxed, and motivated on our journey toward material security.

Jupiter was last in Taurus from June 4, 2011 - June 11, 2012. Think about what was happening in your life then. Are there similarities happening now?

JUPITER IN GEMINI

Jupiter moves through Gemini from May 24, 2024 - June 9, 2025. Jupiter, the "Great Benefic," symbolizes abundance, opportunity, and luck. This expansive quality meets Gemini's communication, intellect, and curiosity. Our minds will yearn for new insights and ways to express them. We will want to learn, write, teach, and travel.

Gemini, an air sign known for its witty demeanor, multi-tasking mind, and adaptability, is ruled by Mercury, the planet of communication, learning, and the intellect. This transit ushers in a time when we could be more social. We also might find ourselves interested in new hobbies or subject matters. If you're considering taking courses or attending workshops, you'll find it hard to resist the urge!

The areas of our lives ruled by Gemini are:

- Media
- News
- Communications
- Shipping and Postal Service
- Books
- Sales
- Printers
- Publishing
- Writing
- Telecommunications
- Ground and Air Transportation
- Railroads
- Puzzles, Board Games, Word Games

Jupiter also magnifies the problems in these areas of our lives, allowing us to make changes and grow.

Jupiter was last in Gemini from June 11, 2012 - June 25, 2013.

NORTH NODE IN ARIES

SOUTH NODE IN LIBRA

The transiting North Node changes into Aries this year. From July 12, 2023 - January 11, 2025, the North Node will be in the warrior sign, while the South Node will be in the opposite sign of Libra, the sign of partnership, balance, and peace.

When the North Node is in Aries, we balance individuation with our relationship needs. Self-awareness becomes an even more critical factor in creating our destiny. This placement encourages us to strive toward our goals and ambitions and work together with others toward a shared outcome. We balance the axis line between self (Aries) and other (Libra).

The North Node in Aries asks us to take the initiative while being mindful of how our actions affect those around us. We must learn how to balance our individual needs with the needs of the collective—acting out of self-interest while maintaining relationships.

This placement also highlights the importance of integrity in relationships; it encourages us to stay true to ourselves and not sacrifice our personal values for relationships. At the same time, we are letting go of codependent patterns, which means we're likely to navigate through any feelings of guilt if we want to do our own thing.

The South Node in Libra is a reminder that relationships are essential for growth but require effort and intentionality. It's time to take the initiative in our lives! To pioneer toward new horizons.

This axis line will be most activated during these eclipses:

2024:

- Lunar Eclipse - 3/25/24 - 05° ♋ 07'
- Solar Eclipse - 4/8/24 - 19° ♌ 24'
- Lunar Eclipse 9/17/24 - 25° ♍ 0'
- Solar Eclipse - 10/2/24 - 10° ♎ 03'

2024 HOROSCOPES

ARIES (MARCH 21 - APRIL 19)

2024 invites you to dare to break free from your comfort zone. The North Node, a destiny point, moves through your sign, tempting you to follow your heart's urges. It's a time for passion and purpose. Give your yes to life, love, and happiness. In making that commitment, you set a fantastic chain of events. We start the year with Mars moving through steadfast Capricorn, helping you solidify New Year's goals and intentions. Let the momentum build in the first quarter of the year.

Jupiter, the planet of luck, meets Uranus, the planet of surprises, in Taurus on April 20. This transit signifies a financial shift toward greater prosperity. If you've been stressed about money, a sudden turn of events could redirect your focus, allowing you to see economic opportunities more clearly. What is your deep-seated desire for your material life? Mars meets the North Node in May and motivates your will to succeed.

In early July, Neptune stations retrograde, a transit you could feel as a cloudy haze diffusing any light coming through. You can't see clearly, and you must trust your intuition. In January and July, seemingly preordained events could inspire faith in the supernatural. Explore the meaning in all extraordinary encounters or synchronicities. Saturn's influence can help you remain dedicated to spiritual practices, but you must stay dedicated and disciplined.

Professionally, see delays as opportunities to correct the course and stay focused on your goals. You may have grown as an expert in your field. If so, you are ready to teach others or author a book. Jupiter shines in your communication sector on May 25, infusing your words with enthusiasm for a year. Take a moment late in the year to pause and celebrate your accomplishments before making a career transition.

The eclipses on March 25, April 8, and October 2 highlight significant life changes. The North Node moves through your sign, asking you to live purposefully, which means you may redefine yourself according to a more authentic identity. Do not dwell on past relationships after the October 2 Solar Eclipse; stay grounded in the present. Rather than chase a love interest, relax and allow things to unfold naturally.

TAURUS (APRIL 20 - MAY 20)

This year helps you unfurl your wings and soar. Jupiter, the planet of expansion, moves through your sign until May 25, awakening your adventurous spirit and showing you revised future visions. Jupiter urges you to dream big; your intentions have the potential to manifest into reality. Since May last year, you had glimpses of your power to shape your destiny, but this year proves it so. On April 20, as Jupiter aligns with Uranus, the planet of surprises, in Taurus, a lightning-bold surge of creativity and purpose inspires you like never before. You could discover hidden talents. A revelation sparks just before your birthday when your visionary insights are at their highest.

How will you make the most of this time?

The journey has already begun. This time, the universe asks you to relax and enjoy the ride, even as it twists and turns. Though your fixed-sign nature resists upheaval, embrace the thrill this year by opening your heart to feel the wonderment of it all. On January 20, Pluto, the agent of transformation, enters Aquarius, initiating 20 years of career innovation. Feel Pluto's empowering presence as it motivates you to reach significant milestones. Its influence sparks an intellectual revolution that propels you onto a new stage. It's time to reconceive that wild idea you thought impractical or unattainable. Prove the naysayers wrong!

April's astrology shows a shift in your romantic life, culminating with September's potent Lunar Eclipse on the eighteenth. This celestial event helps you understand what it means to be seen and known. It starts by outlining self-care practices that nourish and sustain your energy. In October, notice your body's signals and warnings against burnout. Find ways to create a distance from the whirl of activity. Hint: turn off the news and step outside.

In December, Mars retrogrades, prompting reflection on the distinct tugs from your desires for autonomy and interdependence. The year's close offers a time to declutter your commitments and celebrate. You end the year with big life choices that may seem daunting, but let yourself pause and sit still. 2024 shines a light on your curiosity. The past years have trained you for the opportunities opening now. It's time to use your imagination to help create the future.

GEMINI (MAY 20 - JUNE 20)

As the New Year dawns, it awakens the creativity contained within you. Life now challenges you to envision a more expansive view of the future, even as you downsize or reduce your carbon footprint. Expansion begins in the heart, opening the courage to love unconditionally.

On January 20, Pluto moves into Aquarius, initiating a 20-year transformation cycle. This transit could lead you into publishing, writing, or teaching – your ideas long for expression, and the world needs your voice. Pluto promises purpose and fulfillment. The past two years have been a crucible, preparing you for mastery. You've wanted nothing less than excellence and are on your way to fulfilling that end. Saturn's serious light shines on you, making complacency unbearable. You may find yourself at a crossroads. You face pivotal decisions, especially concerning family and real estate, and the outcomes may play a significant role in structuring your year.

Exercise caution in negotiations, especially during Mercury retrograde periods (April 1 – 25, August 4 – 28, and November 25 – December 15). Lean on the advice of trusted advisors to avoid financial pitfalls.

The Lunar Eclipse on September 17 calls for reevaluating your truth after considering the latest information. Jupiter enters your sign on May 25, shining a benevolent light over you for a year. It inspires your optimism about the path you're on. Now is not the time to shrink back; let your light shine and be seen. It's also a favorable time to set health goals; your wellness desires are attainable.

Neptune's dance through the final degrees of Pisces this year may bring a mist of uncertainty this summer. That said, it shows you the positive aspects of every trying circumstance. Allow extra time for tasks and decisions. While enhancing your intuitive capabilities, Neptune's mystical influence may cloud practical judgment, particularly when it goes retrograde (July 2 – December 7).

Throughout the year, the North Node in Aries makes your relationships feel destined, and you stand on the fine line between the desire for independence and the call to commit. This tension could magnify every fear, hope, and yearning within your heart, but it can also lead you to trust love.

CANCER (JUNE 21 - JULY 22)

If this year had a theme song for you, it would be something like I Can See Clearly Now, by Johnny Nash. Since 2008, Pluto's influence has been a cloud hovering over your sign, yet you've been the light. You've been tried, tested, and, in many ways, reborn. Now, you're ready for those clouds to part and for the Sun to shine. Pluto leaves your opposite sign, Capricorn, and enters Aquarius on November 19. It's an invitation to move from grief to praise. It urges you to deeply engage in your relationships, work, and life with passion and purpose.

It also suggests financial shifts that provide long-term security and improve your net worth. Throughout the year, you'll carefully weigh financial decisions as you realize the sacrifices you must make to realize your goals. Balancing risk with opportunity, you may make a career move between the Lunar Eclipse on March 25 and the Solar one on April 8.

The North Node destiny point moves through the pioneering sign of Aries all year, making it a time to consider moving into a leadership position or branching out on your own. The North Node's influence makes you brave in the face of stagnation.

Jupiter meets Uranus on April 20 in Taurus. Your social life receives the blessings of this transit. Imagine the ways your inner circle could expand. With whom would you like to spend more time? This transit could introduce you to new mentors and benefactors. Dream now and celebrate later.

On May 25, Jupiter starts its year-long journey through Gemini. Develop your intuition through disciplined spiritual practices. You may need quieter time than usual; consider going on a wellness or spiritual retreat around your birthday.

The Lunar Eclipse on September 17 raises your hands to the heavens in prayerful passion. Gratitude is a feeling and a practice. How can you express the love you feel? Use poetry and song to say what your heart longs to express. It's a year for spirit-led conversations and a return to hope. No matter what shake-ups occur, you can trust yourself to make wise decisions. Stay centered in that knowing.

LEO (JULY 23 - AUGUST 22)

2024 can be best understood through the symbolism of the oak tree. The oak's roots spread wide, not as deep, reminding us that growth isn't always a deep dive into one singular passion. Your growth this year will mirror this, expanding broadly across varied interests. If you think there's no time for what I want to do, think of the oak tree. As the oak stands with an entire root system, you can explore what nourishes you.

The North Node moves through Aries this year, guiding you to understand the relationship between purpose and passion. You may respond to a new call with the Libra Lunar Eclipse on March 25. This eclipse wakes you up to shake off anything unfulfilling or limiting. If you don't feel you're flourishing, the April 8 Solar Eclipse motivates necessary change.

It's a year to let go of obligations you've held onto out of loyalty to others rather than your genuine desire. Saturn in Pisces graces you with discernment and asks you to exercise caution with finances. It's a great time to consider long-term goals. Saturn is a get-serious planet, and its influence can suggest issues with taxes or insurance, especially as it meets Mars on April 10.

Business booms with new excitement on April 20 when Jupiter meets Uranus and ignites career prospects. What are your dreams? State them as intentions and say the words with enthusiasm. Uranus is a lightning bolt of energy motivating progressive change. Use your powers of imagination to expand your vision of what's possible. At the same time, be open to the universe's surprises.

On October 2, the Libra Solar Eclipse highlights a shift in family dynamics, possibly motivated by a conversation about the past or real estate decisions. Eclipses shake up stagnant energy and help us act when we've been resistant to making moves. The September 17 Lunar Eclipse paves a path for these changes and centers on finances.

Love feels intense as Pluto enters Aquarius on January 20 and starts a 20-year cycle in that sign. You're learning to love with abandon, opening your heart in ways you've been afraid to. Your belonging is your birthright. Draw closer to others who help you feel it to the core.

VIRGO (AUGUST 23 - SEPTEMBER 22)

Conflict drives the action and carries the plot forward in storytelling or moviemaking. Remember that message during this relationship-oriented year. Saturn moves through Pisces, lighting up your chart in a way that emphasizes committing to others. Consider this good news if you've been single and open to welcoming a new relationship! At the same time, the North Node, our collective destiny point, moves through the boundary-setting sign of Aries, meaning we're more aware of our individualized needs and more fired up to advocate for them. On April 10, this tension peaks as Mars meets Saturn. Throughout April, you see through foggy illusions and face intimacy fears. By the end of the year, you could have that storybook ending if you stay rooted in your desires and open to growth.

On April 20, Jupiter, the planet of luck, meets Uranus, the planet of surprises, in one of the most exciting transits of the year! Life feels like an adventure throughout March and April. Set intentions and dream big; possibilities abound. This transit opens opportunities abroad, making travel or international business expansion favorable. Alternatively, consider engaging in an academic or certification course. In other words, it's a year to expand your mindset beyond limiting beliefs.

Pluto, the planetary agent of transformation, enters Aquarius on January 20, and you'll feel its influence in organizing your life's details. As it starts a new 20-year cycle in the water-bearer sign, Pluto asks you to say goodbye to unhealthy habits or unwanted obligations. You're discovering what integrating body, mind, and spirit means.

Your ruling planet, Mercury, steals the show three times this year as it gives the illusion of moving backward (April 1 – April 25, August 4 – 28, and November 25 – December 15). In August, Mercury is retrograde in your sign, making it a time of deep introspection. If you've been incubating a creative idea or contemplating a writing project, Mercury's light could help with completion.

Mars stars in the astrology at the end of the year. Mars will go retrograde from December 6, 2024, to February 23, 2025. As the warrior planet slows down, it invites you to drop your defenses and let others accept, support, and love you. Through healing, you've come full circle in meaningful ways. Life's conflicts make way for peace.

LIBRA (SEPTEMBER 22- OCTOBER 22)

A born leader, you share your sign with activists, artists, and visionaries like Eleanor Roosevelt, John Lennon, and Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. The scales, your sign's symbol, represent your dedication to fairness and justice. The cardinal quality of your sign suggests you dare to act and initiate change. Venus, the planet of interdependence and beauty, rules your sign. Naturally, you have a flair for art, culture, and social affairs. With no disrespect for other signs, we may need more Libras in positions of power.

You have profound things to say and a perspective relevant to these times, and on January 20, Pluto, the planetary agent of transformation, enters Aquarius, emboldening your speech. So, step up to the microphone, and don't shy away from the camera. Keep a pen close, as you could be in a continual writing flow. Journaling can be helpful, as this process allows you to tune others out and access wisdom from your higher mind. You'll experience this power all year as Pluto starts its 20-year cycle in the sign of the rebel and revolution.

The South Node moves through your sign, deepening your awareness about your more unsupportive personality traits. How can you please yourself before you rush into pleasing others? Boundaries is a keyword for 2024, and pay careful attention to how you ignore your needs or downplay your wants. Peace isn't merely the absence of conflict; it's finding a balance point between differences. We can focus on our breath and find that centered space within ourselves. Keep this in mind on March 25, April 8, September 17, and October 2, when the eclipses activate the nodal axis line.

Jupiter and Uranus meet in Taurus on April 20, and they suggest a critical financial turning point that shapes your vision for the future. Jupiter expands while Uranus surprises. Anything could happen, including an inheritance, investment opportunity, or shift in your partner's income. Throughout April, you learn about trust in what often feels like an unsafe world.

On May 25, Jupiter enters Gemini, where it stays for a year. The beneficial planet reminds you that worry is a misuse of your imagination. Your thoughts have more power to create and shape your world. Engage in creative visualization and be open to wonder. Through the frenzy of autumn's astrology, miracles abound. Pay attention with gratitude.

SCORPIO (OCTOBER 23 - NOVEMBER 21)

As a Scorpio, you are prone to feel the extremes of happiness, grief, and everything in between, and the more you love, the broader your spectrum of emotions. After the struggle of the past several years, let joy be your guide. Let it be the force that heals your most intimate relationships, and make the enjoyment of life a spiritual practice.

Uranus, the planet of surprises, moves through Taurus, your opposite sign, showing what circumstances prevent you from feeling free. Though you may wish to change everything, resist impulsive moves. In the past, have you abandoned yourself for others? On April 20, Jupiter meets Uranus, showing you a graceful path back home to yourself.

Jupiter shines a light on your relationships this year. As it enters Gemini on May 25, you learn to relax your need to control every aspect of life, opening to accept help from others. Marriage is also a highlight for you, which could mean ceremonially recommitting to your spouse. Love asks you to negotiate in times of conflict as the North Node moves through Aries this year. Those of you who stand poised to argue may discover it's more enjoyable to collaborate than compete.

Pluto enters Aquarius on January 20, promising new ways of relating with your family that will evolve over the next 20 years. As the cycle begins, ignore the myth of lack. Discover how to shift your experiences of time, space, and energy.

For example, did you know our experience of time changes based on the space we're in? Likewise, research shows that engaging in activities we love energizes us. In addition, our beliefs and viewpoints inform our experiences. As Neptune goes retrograde from July 2 - December 7, it helps you discover ways to shape your perception.

On September 17, the Pisces Lunar Eclipse indicates changes in your social circle, leading you to become more involved in your community or start a group for people with shared interests. Once the spark of desire gets planted, it will grow and bloom. Mars stations retrograde on December 6, closing the year in a quiet mode, allowing you to reflect on a year of loving big and letting love transform you.

SAGITTARIUS (NOVEMBER 22 - DECEMBER 21)

2024 asks you to imagine you're surrounded by a bubble of protection shielding you from negativity or ill will. When you feel safe, you can face your fears, realizing their limiting constructs. Without that fear, what risk could you imagine taking?

On April 20, Jupiter, your ruling planet, meets Uranus, the planet of surprises, in a dynamic transit full of possibilities. Your imagination is powerful. Use it to view the challenging areas of your life from different perspectives. By changing your viewpoint, you can see alternate pathways or ways of problem-solving.

Pluto enters Aquarius on January 20, starting a 20-year cycle in the water-bearer sign. This year, it awakens your mind and teaches you how to speak with greater authority. Your words have power, and you could command the attention of a large audience if you share your ideas with conviction. Between the Lunar Eclipse on March 24 and the Solar Eclipse on April 8, you learn about charisma, the blend of expression and heart. The North Node in Aries punctuates that theme all year.

The Libra Solar Eclipse on October 2 highlights community and invites you to connect with supportive friends. If you have a project needing benefactors or sponsors, consider pitching your ideas when Jupiter enters Gemini on May 25, as this transit ushers in a year-long cycle in which the benefic planet helps collaboration, representation, and partnership.

Jupiter's presence supports romantic commitments as well. Stern Saturn anchors your domestic life, helping you create a nurturing nest. Saturn makes us work for what we want, and this is an area of accelerated growth. So, consider the repairs, changes, or upgrades your home needs.

From November 25 – December 15, Mercury is retrograde in your sign, reminding you to take your time. 2024 is a year for you to gain momentum, and there's a fine line between fast-paced excitement and feeling overwhelmed. What sparks your enthusiasm? Even if you do not fully manifest a dream, enthusiasm is your soul's calling. Expect huge professional breakthroughs throughout the year. With each crossroad you face, you must step forward in faith.

CAPRICORN (DECEMBER 22 - JANUARY 19)

You've enjoyed accelerated growth thanks to Pluto's move through your sign. Think of how different your life is today and how much you've risen into authority. Your voice carries farther today than before 2008 when Pluto entered your sign. This year, the planetary agent of transformation moves into Aquarius and sets you free to live life renewed. On January 20, the Sun and Pluto enter Aquarius, and though it moves back and forth between the two signs in late summer and autumn, it ushers you into its new 20-year cycle.

As we start the year, Mars moves through your sign like a motivational force, making you more focused on goal setting. Practicality meets with vibrant desire, making the year's first quarter a time for new beginnings. Remember, you have the tenacity to make any dream a reality, and 2024 is a time to envision a more expanded view of what's possible.

Mercury stations direct after its retrograde journey on January 1. Then, it moves back toward your sign on January 13, an influence that slows you down enough to let you see what's missing from your personal life. Do you have time to relax and rest? Are you hungry for more connection? Pay attention to these inner longings to discern how best to meet your heart's needs.

Jupiter moves through Taurus until May 25, gracing you with optimism and a feeling of luck. The past several years have tested your faith, and doubt sometimes overshadowed hope. Shake off the cloud of despair – it's a new day! Jupiter meets with Uranus on April 20, indicating things could change instantly. Stay centered through a dedicated spiritual practice, like creative meditation or mindfulness, to keep a healthy detachment from struggle. Springtime is a creative, fertile time. Your attention is a force for change.

Saturn moves through Pisces this year, allowing you to be precise with your words. It's a time for learning and teaching. You might be inspired to start a podcast, author a book, or find another way to share your ideas with the world. Saturn asks you to focus more intently, promising mastery in return.

AQUARIUS (JANUARY 20 - FEBRUARY 18)

Your inner activist awakens more fully this year, thanks to Pluto's move into your sign on January 20, starting a 20-year cycle in your sign. The planetary agent of transformation encourages you to let your voice sing out. You may discover your inner muse.

During this time, you're learning all about power. The etymological root of the word is pouer, which means the ability to act or do. In other words, you can do it! Remember this phrase as a mantra for the year, especially if you're born on the Capricorn/Aquarius cusp or in the first few days of your sign. What would you do if you had no fear? Make those acts of courage your top intentions this year.

War is on many people's minds. The North Node moves through Aries this year, riling up the activists, visionaries, and disrupters. Are you among them? Accept your call to challenge unfairness and work your way into a leadership position. The March 25 Lunar Eclipse lets you decide whether to become more involved in your community and, if that answer's yes, what role you'd like to play. I encourage you to have as much fun as possible in the process!

Speaking of fun, Jupiter enters Gemini on May 25, and joy can be a spiritual practice for a year while the planet of abundance is in this sign. This transit highlights fertility, making it an excellent time to nurture a seedling idea or welcome a little one into your life. Jupiter offers opportunities to share your creative genius with the world. Set intentions accordingly.

On April 20, Jupiter meets Uranus in Taurus, merging electricity with excitement. Anything could happen, as Uranus signifies an element of mystery. You'll experience a shift in your career, encouraging you to reach a goal you previously thought unattainable. The following months will stir dormant potential. Dream big and then set intentions aligned with those dreams.

PISCES (FEBRUARY 19 - MARCH 20)

What does it mean to accept a sacred call? 2024 reveals the answer to this question. Saturn, the planet of mastery, is in your sign all year, making it a time to dedicate yourself to your heart's deepest longing. Saturn's influence may seem like a lot of work, but he loves to reward your efforts with awards and recognition. Climb up to the top and enjoy the view from a new peak. Mars meets Saturn on April 10 in a transit that motivates you to renew your devotion to your path.

The year starts with a spiritual revelation as Pluto and the Sun enter Aquarius on January 20. Pluto will be moving through the water-bearer sign for the next 20 years, but as the cycle starts this year, you will feel its presence, activating your dreams and inspiring prophetic visions. It could be an excellent time for spiritual coursework, especially with esoteric studies. Adding to this energetic upgrade, Neptune stations retrograde on July 2 in your sign, inviting you to discover the power of your intuition.

Jupiter moves into Gemini on May 25, dancing through your home and family sector and making it a time for a stellar redesign or home renovation project. Alternatively, you may be contemplating a move. Watch as the plans organically come together and Jupiter blesses you with helpful people. The light shines on any truth family members have hidden. It's a time for clarifying conversations and healing where it most needs to occur.

Finances are a focal point this year as the North Node travels through Aries and the South Node moves through Libra. The eclipses on March 25, April 8, and October 2 inspire new pathways to success, but you must trust yourself despite pitfalls. Life feels like an adventure throughout the spring and autumn, making them times to surrender your need to know the outcome of life's storylines. Agility is a defining character trait; use it to your advantage this year.

Relationships fill your year with moments of overflowing gratitude and love. Saturn's presence in your sign helps you commit to love, while Neptune's influence infuses your romantic relationships with sweetness. This year allows you to know reciprocity in love, especially at the September 17 Pisces Lunar Eclipse.
